SEX TRAFFICKING IN HOTELS

Traffickers use hotels to apply their trade and are very transient. This enables them to avoid detection of law enforcement and also allows them to isolate the victims from their friends and families.

The ability to pay for rooms in cash or to change rooms or hotel locations on a nightly basis can make it easy for pimps and traffickers to avoid detection.

Eliminating hotels as a venue for traffickers to operate, can help disrupt traffickers' business and significantly disrupt and dismantle trafficking rings.
Why should you report?

IT’S THE RIGHT THING TO DO!

You might be the last person to save this victim’s life from a horrific situation that might result in serious injury and sometimes death.
YOU CAN PREVENT:

1. Further victimization of young females
2. Offenders committing criminal acts in hotels
3. Potential damage to hotel rooms
4. Home-invasion-style robberies being committed against female victims in hotel rooms with firearms and other weapons
5. Serious risk to other hotel patrons due to criminal activity
6. Civil liability due to injuries caused by criminal activity
7. Loss of reputation to the general public that will affect their hotel revenue
HOW CAN YOU MAKE A DIFFERENCE?
AT CHECK-IN – Characteristics of Human Trafficking

Look for:

➢ Pays with cash; checks in for several days or a week

➢ An older man or woman checks in with a younger female

➢ Female appears dazed or distant from their companion or pimp who stands away from area

➢ Doesn’t have any ID or their companion has their identification

➢ Appearance is not indicative of young person’s age (make-up, expensive clothing, nails done etc.)

➢ Asks for room with view of parking lot or far away from main entrance

➢ Persons checking-in appears to have very little luggage with them

Please keep in mind that the presence of just one of these indicators does not immediately mean that Human Trafficking is occurring.
